Painting Matters

Painting Matters at Alice Amati, showcases Manchester School of Art graduates who foreground matters within painting. The exhibition challenges norms, exploring painting's relevance, history, and materiality. From evocative works by Robin Megannity to Louise Giovanelli's rejection of theoretical constraints, the show celebrates painting's essence. Tommy Harrison resists nostalgia, while Fisher Mustin sees painting as a collective cultural tradition. Rafal Topolewski's journey reflects painting's exploration. Together, they reaffirm painting's importance and certainty in the art world.

Date: until 25 August 2023. Location: 27 Warren St, London W1T 5NB.

Price: Free.
