

Frieze Magazine

'London According to: Will Hine from GRIMM'

By Chris Waywell

4 Oct 2023

FRIEZE

London According to: Will Hine from GRIMM

Celebrating one year in London, GRIMM Gallery fosters community between artists. Its director gives a gallerist's eye view of London

Installation view of Xavier Robles de Medina 'I will go away into the wild wood, and never come home again.' at Alice Amati, London. Photo by Tom Carter.

Favourite exhibition in London at the moment and the last exhibition you went to?

The last exhibition I went to was Xavier Robles de Medina's solo show at Alice Amati, one of Fitzrovia's great new galleries to keep an eye on. I also went with our gallery artist Claudia Martínez Garay to the wonderful Odotores Ricardo de Ozias exhibition at David Zwirner, which we both loved, so that is certainly another one of my favourites at the moment.