Almost There* by Paul Robas

Vienna-based Romanian artist, Paul Robas contemplates the finitude of human existence in his work by embracing quiet moments, removed from time and resting in stillness. He holds onto a moment and distorts it into a universal experience; photographs of friends, moments of lighting, and fragmented imagery create a particular distant familiarity. These paintings prompt you to reflect on how moments are remembered, the times you have already lived through, the fleeting present, and the future that is yet to come.
